Washington statue.

To enable the President of the United States to contract with a skillful artist to execute in marble a pedestrian statue of George Washington, to be placed in the centre of the rotundo of the Capitol.

For an additional payment for the statue of Washington

For additional payment for the statue of Washington

For cost of preparing suitable foundation for supporting the colossal statue of Washington in the centre of the rotundo of the Capitol.....

That the accounts of Horatio Greenough, for expenses incurred in the execution of the pedestrian statute of Washington, authorized by a resolution of Congress, February 13, 1832, and the accounts and charges for freight of the same to the United States, be settled, under the direction of the Secretary of State, according to the rights of the claimants under their several contracts liberally construed.

For the freight aforesaid and detention of the ship, and for an iron railing around the statue, including the sum of $1,500 assumed to be paid by the said Greenough in addition to the original contract as made by Commodore Hull, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

For the purpose of removing the said statue from the navy-yard at Washington and for erecting the same in such part of the grounds of the Capitol as may be deemed best adapted for the same by the Secretary of the Navy, in accordance with the joint resolution of Congress of May 27, 1840 (5 Stats, 409)

For the removal of the statue of Washington, under the direction of a joint committee of both houses of Congress, the account for which shall be audited and certified by said committee.

For the removal of the statue of Washington from its present position and permanently placing the same on a proper pedestal and covering it temporarily in the inclosed and cultivated public grounds east of the Capitol, directly in front of the main entrance and steps on the east front of the Capitol, as suggested in the report of the Joint Committee on the Library and in the letter of Mr. Greenough, dated February 3, 1843, referred to and reported by said committee in connection with the memorial of Horatio Greenough, under the direction and supervision of the said Greenough.

For the removal of the building over the statue of Washington and erecting an iron fence around the same.....

SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION.
Prosecution of the claim to the Smithsonian bequest.

The President authorized to constitute and appoint an agent or agents to assert and prosecute for and in behalf of the United States, and in their name or otherwise, as may be advisable, in the court of chancery or other proper tribunal of England, the right of the United States to the legacy bequeathed to them by the last will and testament of James Smithson, late of London, deceased, for the purpose of founding at Washington, under the name of the Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men; and to empower such agent or agents so appointed to receive and grant acquittances for all such sum or sums of money or other funds as may or shall be decreed or adjudged to the United States for or on account of said legacy. For defraying the expenses attending the prosecution of the claim of the United States to the legacy bequeathed by the late James Smithson, of London.

Investment account.

The act of July 7, 1835, provides that all the money arising from the bequest of the late James Smithson, of London, for the purpose of founding at Washington, in this District, an institution to be denominated the Smithsonian Institution, which may be paid into the Treasury, is hereby appropriated and shall be invested by the Secretary of the Treasury, with the approbation of the President of the United States, in stocks of States, bearing interest at the rate of not less than five per centum per annum; which said stocks shall be held by the said Secretary in trust for the uses specified in the last will and testament of said Smithson until provision is made by law for carrying the purpose of said bequest into effect; and that the annual interest accrued on the stock aforesaid shall be in like manner invested for the benefit of said institution.

By the act of September 11, 1841, the above is repealed, and it is provided that the Secretary of the Treasury shall, until Congress shall appropriate said accruing interest to the purpose prescribed by the testator, for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men, invest said accruing interest in any stock of the United States bearing a rate of interest not less than five per centum per annum.

the purpose of founding at Washington, under the name of the Smithsonian Institution, an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge among men; and to empower such agent or agents so appointed to receive and grant acquaintances for all such sums of money or other funds as may or shall be decreed or ordered to the United States for or on account of said legacy affraying the expenses attending the prosecution of the claim of the United States to the legacy bequeathed by the late James Smithson, of London. Alteration of the old jail for accommodation of the insane, &c. The act of August 29, 1842, provides that the Commissioner of Public Buildings be authorized and required, under the direction of the President of the United States, and upon a plan to be by him approved, to cause such alterations to be made in the old jail as will adapt it for the reception and accommodation of the insane of the District of Columbia, and of such sick, disabled, and infirm seamen, soldiers, and others as may, by competent authority, to be hereafter prescribed, be deemed proper to be received therein; which building, with one-half of the ground occupied by the old and new jails, is hereby assigned for those purposes. That on the completion of the said building, the President be authorized to appoint three respectable persons, residents of the city of Washington, to be a board of inspectors of the said institution, who shall hold their offices two years from the date of their appointment, and whose duty it shall be to have a general supervision of the concerns of the said hospital, to appoint the necessary subordinate officers thereof, to prescribe rules for the admission and due regulation of patients therein, and to make an annual report to Congress of their proceedings and of the condition of the said institution. That there be appropriated $10,000 for the alteration of the said building and improvement of the grounds, to be paid out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated. COLUMBIA INSTITUTION FOR THE INSTRUCTION OF THE DEAF, DUMB, AND BLIND. Maintenance, tuition, and general expenses. The act of February 16, 1857, section 4, provides that whenever the Secretary of the Interior shall be satisfied, by evidence produced by the president of the institution hereby incorporated, that any deaf, dumb, or blind person of teachable age properly belonging to this District is in indigent circumstances, and cannot command the means to secure an education, it shall be his duty to authorize the said person to enter the said institution for instruction, and to pay for his maintenance and tuition therein, at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per annum for such deaf and dumb pupil, and at the rate of one hundred and fifty dollars per annum for such blind pupil, payable quarterly, out of the Treasury of the United States. For the payment of salaries and incidental expenses. For salaries and incidental expenses, embracing, in addition to the objects heretofore provided for in this appropriation, the salary of an additional teacher, construction of a new sewer, and the construction and repairs of fences. For salaries and incidental expenses, including five hundred dollars for the purchase of books and illustrative apparatus. For the support of the institution, including five hundred dollars for books and illustrative apparatus. For the support of the institution, including one thousand dollars for books and illustrative apparatus: Provided , That deaf mutes, not exceeding ten in number, residing in the several States and Territories of the United States, applying for admission to the collegiate department of the institution, shall be received on the same terms and conditions as those prescribed by law for residents of the District of Columbia, at the discretion of the president of the institution. For the support of the institution, in addition to the existing appropriation to meet the increased expense of maintaining pupils whose admission was authorized by an act of Congress approved March 2, 1867. For the support of the institution, including one thousand dollars for books and illustrative apparatus. To enable the Secretary of the Interior to provide for the proper maintenance and tuition of the beneficiaries of the United States in the Columbia Institution for the Deaf and Dumb for the year ending June 30, 1869. WASHINGTON AQUEDUCT.

Construction account.

To enable the War Department to make such examinations and surveys as may be necessary to determine upon the best and most available mode of supplying the city of Washington with pure water, and to prepare a plan and estimate of the probable cost of the same, to be reported to Congress at its next session.....

To enable the President of the United States to cause the necessary surveys, projects, and estimates to be made for determining the best means of affording the cities of Washington and Georgetown an unfailing and abundant supply of good and wholesome water, report thereof to be made to Congress at its next session.

To be expended, under the direction of the President of the United States, for the purpose of bringing water into the city of Washington, upon such plans and from such places as he may approve: Provided, That if the plan adopted by the President of the United States should require water to be drawn from any source within the limits of Maryland, the assent of the legislature of that State should first be obtained.

For continuing the work on the Washington aqueduct.

For paying existing liabilities for the Washington aqueduct and preserving the work already done from injury, such sum of money as shall be necessary, not exceeding $250,000.

For continuing the Washington aqueduct.

For the completion of the Washington aqueduct, and, in addition thereto, so much of the appropriation of $250,000, "for paying existing liabilities for the Washington aqueduct and preserving the work already done from injury," contained in the act approved August 15, 1856 (11 Stats., 86), as may not be required for said purposes.

For the completion of the Washington aqueduct, to be expended according to the plans and estimates of Captain Meigs, and under his superintendence: Provided, That the office of engineer of the Potomac Water Works is hereby abolished, and its duties shall hereafter be discharged by the chief engineer of the Washington aqueduct.

For the purpose of constructing the dam of solid masonry across the Maryland branch of the Potomac River near the Great Falls, and for constructing the conduit around the receiving reservoir, and for paying existing liabilities and expenses, engineering, superintendence, and repairs of said aqueduct.

To complete the dam in the Potomac River at the head of the aqueduct, from the shore to Conn's Island, with cut stone.

To complete the connecting conduit around and outside the receiving reservoir.

To finish gate-house at Great Falls.

For temporary dam at Conn's Island.

For management, miscellaneous, and contingent.

For repairing the damage done to the Washington aqueduct by freshets in the year 1866.

For the payment of the employees in the management, engineering, and repairs of the Washington aqueduct.

To meet a deficiency in the cost of completing certain portions of the Washington aqueduct, comprising the Potomac dam, repairs of temporary dam, gate-house at Great Falls, and the connecting conduit at the receiving reservoir: Provided, That the sum shall be in full of all claims against the government for work done on damages incurred on the Washington aqueduct.

For salary of assistant engineer, superintendence, and repairs for the year ending June 30, 1869, to be expended under the immediate direction of the officer detailed to act as superintendent of public buildings and grounds.

For repairs and superintendence of the Washington aqueduct.

For the completion of the Washington aqueduct, except coping and covering of bridges; for rent and purchase of 5 ¹/₄ acres of land.

For purchase of roadway from Great Falls to conduit road, 2 ³/₄ miles, 17 ¹/₄ acres.

For purchase of roadway across land owned by William Brooke.

For rent and purchase of land at high-service reservoir, in Georgetown.

For rent and purchase of land at bridge number six, in Georgetown.

For clearing out obstructions near the dam, to give free access in low water to the head of the aqueduct.

For repairs in tunnel number one and removing fallen stones.

To enable the Secretary of the Interior to pay the expenditures made by the board of public works of the District of Columbia for paving roadway, and curbing and paving sidewalks, grading, sewerage, and other improvements upon and adjoining the property of the United States in the District of Columbia: Provided, That all payments under this appropriation shall be made only upon vouchers approved by the officer in charge of the public buildings and grounds of the District, after full examination and measurement of the said improvements, and the approval of the prices claimed therefor: And provided further, That the said board of public works be, and they are hereby, prohibited from incurring or contracting further liabilities on behalf of the United States in the improvement of streets, avenues, and reservations beyond the amount of appropriations previously made by Congress, and from entering into any contract touching such improvements on behalf of the United States except in pursuance of appropriations made by Congress

To complete improvements of streets and avenues now in progress opposite and around government property

For the District of Columbia, to be expended by the Commissioners of said District and applied as follows: First, to the payment of interest on the funded debt of said District due July 1, 1874; secondly, to the payment of officers, employees, and laborers of the District, whether of the District proper or of the board of public works; thirdly, for the payment of any indebtedness for which the securities of the District are pledged, and the remainder to the current expenses of said District. The money herein appropriated shall be drawn from the Treasury from time to time, as the same may be needed, and only upon detailed statements of amounts to be paid and the persons to whom, or on what account payable, to which statements shall be appended the certificates of such Commissioners that they have carefully examined such accounts, and that they believe them to be just and due to the respective claimants thereof; copies of said statements, together with a report of all receipts and disbursements of said District government, shall be transmitted by them to the President, to be by him transmitted to Congress at the beginning of its next session: Provided, That all sums due any party exceeding $100, shall be paid only by checks on the Treasury, issued directly to the party to whom the same is due: And provided further, That the sum of $75,000 of said sum hereby appropriated shall be used for the payment of the workmen employed on public improvements on the streets and excavations of Washington under the board of public works of the District of Columbia, or the contractors of the same; and the Commissioners are hereby authorized and ordered to retain from the several contractors who are indebted to the workmen, and whose accounts have not been settled by the board of public works, the several sums due the workmen; all the above sums, except so much thereof as may be paid for interest as aforesaid, to be considered and adjusted hereafter as a part of the proper proportional sum to be paid by the United States toward the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia

To pay on behalf of the United States as a portion of the general expenses of the District of Columbia to be expended by the Commissioners of said District, only to be drawn as needed for immediate use, and $200,000 of this sum shall be available from the passage of this act, no salaries to be changed from the standard fixed under act of June 20, 1874

To pay a portion of the general expenses of the District of Columbia, to be expended by the Commissioners of said District
